

A large, empty square box with a black border, intended for a child to draw or write a description of the weather from yesterday.

Yesterday was:

A large, empty square box with a black border, intended for a child to draw or write a description of the weather from today.

Today is:

A large, empty square box with a black border, intended for a child to draw or write a description of the weather for tomorrow.

Tomorrow
will be:

A large, empty square box with a black border, intended for a child to draw or write a description of the current weather.

Today, the weather is:

